

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

Hybrid mesoporous molecular sieve silica compositions which have intergrown wormhole domains and lamellar or hexagonal domains and prepared from mixtures
5 of water soluble silicate precursors and amine surfactant templates through a neutralization reaction are described. The silica compositions are stable above 600°C.